

The 10-Minute Business Friction Audit

Find the things making your business harder than it needs to be.

Your business doesn't need to be perfect. But the little workarounds, repeated tasks, unanswered questions, and "that's just how we do it" moments add up. Take 10 minutes. Check every statement that feels familiar.

MANUAL WORK

- ☐ We repeat the same manual tasks every week.
- ☐ Someone regularly copies information from one place to another.
- ☐ We spend time on work that feels like it should be automated.

DUPLICATE DATA

- ☐ The same information lives in multiple places.
- ☐ We enter or update the same information more than once.
- ☐ We're not always sure which system has the most current information.

CUSTOMER CONFUSION

- ☐ Customers regularly ask questions we thought were already answered.
- ☐ It isn't always obvious what a customer should do next.
- ☐ Parts of our website, booking, buying, or onboarding process create unnecessary back-and-forth.

OWNER DEPENDENCY

- ☐ Too many decisions have to come through me.
- ☐ My team regularly needs information that only I have.
- ☐ If I disappeared for a month, something important would probably stop working.

REPORTING BLIND SPOTS

- ☐ Getting a simple business number sometimes requires detective work.
- ☐ I make decisions without all the information I wish I had.
- ☐ Reporting requires manually combining information from different places.

DISCONNECTED TOOLS

- ☐ Our tools technically work—but they don't really work together.
- ☐ People are the ones moving information between our systems.
- ☐ We've added new software without removing much work.

UNDOCUMENTED PROCESSES

- ☐ Important processes mostly live in someone's head.
- ☐ Different people complete the same task differently.
- ☐ Training someone new requires a lot of explaining.

BOTTLENECKS

- ☐ Work regularly gets stuck waiting for one person, approval, or piece of information.
- ☐ Growth has created more admin work than we expected.
- ☐ There's at least one recurring problem we keep working around instead of fixing.

The 10-Minute Business Friction Audit

Find the things making your business harder than it needs to be.

NOW LOOK AT WHAT YOU CHECKED.

0–5 checked

Your foundation is probably working pretty well. Look for the few recurring annoyances that could become bigger as you grow.

6–12 checked

There's meaningful friction in the business. A few better-connected processes could probably give you significant time and clarity back.

13+ checked

Your business may be relying on workarounds more than systems. Don't try to overhaul everything at once.

Circle the three creating the most friction.

Don't fix everything. Start there.

Ask yourself:

Which one costs us the most time?

Which one creates the most confusion?

Which one will get worse as we grow?

Where those answers overlap is probably where I'd start.
